GREETINGS FROM THE IASWG PRESIDENT

Welcome and thank you for joining us at the 2021 IASWG Symposium!

This year's theme Group Work in a Changing World: The Power of Connection has particular poignance for 2020-2021. This year has been rife with changes. We have faced a worldwide health pandemic, political and economic instability, human rights violations, systematic racism and oppression, and the impact of climate change. It has become evident that there is an ever-growing need for group work which can help build interpersonal connections, address social isolation, enhance mutual understanding and challenge inequities through activism and community organizing.

IASWG's message, The Time for Groupwork, continues to resonate during these difficult times: "There has never been a more urgent time to bring communities together towards a mutual understanding and a respect, not just for humanity, but for the planet as a whole. Social group work can create security where there is uncertainty, a feeling of belonging where there is alienation, and a vehicle for positive communal action where there is a sense of helplessness. It has been used to unite and give voice to people in the aftermath of conditions that seemed beyond repair. Through social group work, nations, communities, and individuals can repair."

Group workers have the will and the skills to help. And we are hopeful that the information and ideas shared during the symposium will inspire you to take action!

Based on your feedback and the creativity of our planning committee, we offer you both the expected aspects of our annual symposium plus enhanced features. We hope you enjoy the pre-symposium institutes, the plenaries, invitational sessions, workshops and poster sessions. New features include our interactive membership meetings, our focus groups on development of standards for on-line group work, member meet and great sessions, a Skill-Building Workshop on Non-deliberative Group Work in a Virtual Setting, and our international stretch & sing-along,

Please take the time to read about this year's IASWG Honouree, Dr. Greg Tully. Greg is a social group work educator and author whose dedication to IASWG included 6 ½ years as President. Greg welcomed many of us to IASWG and gracefully led the organization through six symposiums, including those in New York, South Africa, North Carolina, Calgary and Boston.

Join me in thanking the Symposium planning committee who worked diligently to develop this innovative and very high-quality event:

Sam Benbow, Ginette Berteau, Namoonga Chilwalo, Linda Ducca, Donna Guy, Vitalija Lyska, Ellen Sue Mesbur, Reineth Prinsloo, Jorūnė Vyšniauskytė Rimkienė, Andrea Rowell, Žaneta Šerkšnienė, Padraic Stanley, Greg Tully and Joyce Webster. And I especially want to show our great appreciation for the dedication and excellence of Emily Santonocito, our Symposium Coordinator.

And most importantly, thank you for joining us to celebrate the joy of social connections through groupwork.

Barbara Muskat
President, IASWG

IASWG HONOREE

Each year the IASWG Board of Directors honors an individual (or individuals) whom over their lifetime have made substantial contributions to IASWG and global group work. This year the IASWG Board of Directors is pleased to honor Greg Tully as the 2021 IASWG Honoree.

GREGORY TULLY, PhD, MSW

Each year the International Association for Social Work with Groups honors a member who has made significant contributions to our organization. I am thrilled to announce this year's IASWG honoree, Dr. Greg Tully. As most of you know, Greg was the President of IASWG from June 2012-November 2018. Indeed, he has made many significant contributions to IASWG and is a most deserving recipient of this honor.

Greg's first experience with IASWG was as a presenter at the 2000 Symposium in Toronto. He then joined the board in 2004, as the representative from the Florida chapter. This led to his becoming the Chapters' Liaison, Chair of the Membership Committee, Co-Chair of the 29th Annual Symposium in Jersey City, and then Vice President, President and now, Immediate Past President. Greg has continued his IASWG Board service as a current member of the Symposium and Nominations & Elections committees, as well as plays an integral role in the subcommittee currently developing IASWG Standard for Online Group Work.

Greg was well steeped in group work before joining IASWG. He completed his graduate degree in Social Work at Hunter College Graduate School of Social Work, where he studied with George Getzel, Roselle Kurland and Robert Salmon. His PhD was completed at New York University School of Social Work, where he established a wonderful symposium partnership for IASWG. He taught at Barry University School of Social Work, another hub of group work expertise. Currently, Greg is a Professor at West Chester University, where he teaches courses in social work practice with individuals, families, groups and communities and social welfare policy. He also continues to teach at New York University. He has brought many of his students to IASWG symposia, as both volunteers and presenters.

Greg is the co-editor of Symposium Proceedings in 2012, 2019 and 2020. He also co-edited Passion for Group Work: An International Conversation. He has authored many articles and is on the editorial board of a number of journals.

Greg has been a frequent conference presenter and has been a passionate representative for IASWG at the annual meetings of the Council for Social Work Education. Greg has also travelled the globe making presentations for many IASWG chapters. He has also taught training courses for executives and managers of major world-wide corporations.

What stands out for many of us who know Greg are his deep commitment to IASWG, his heartfelt mentorship skills, his ability to welcome and orient others to the organization, his embracing the international growth of IASWG and his positive acceptance of everyone he meets. Congratulations Greg on this well-earned honor.

Barb Muskat
President, IASWG

ACCESSING LIVE PRESENTATIONS

Presentations with zoom links will be accessible through our Presentation Gallery in the Confex MeetingApp web platform using your login information. You do not need to pre-register for the presentations that you wish to attend. Within each presentation page, buttons will become available to “Join Virtual Meeting” for each presentation.

These live meetings will be hosted using Zoom. Please review our Netiquette Guidelines and Zoom Tips For Successful Meetings in order to best prepare for the virtual Symposium. With the consent of the presenters and participants, we plan to archive as many presentations as possible and make them available for 30 days after the symposium.

A Few Reminders:

- Access to the symposium is only for the person registered. Sharing meeting links are not permitted. We will be taking attendance. Unregistered attendees will not be granted access to the symposium.
- Please refrain from entering and exiting meeting rooms once a presentation has started as this is distracting to presenters and attendees.
- We recommend you login into the symposium portal about 15 minutes before the start of the symposium to be able to access sessions and join presentations through the meeting waiting room. This also provides you additional time to reach out if there are any technical issues.

If you experience technical difficulties, please contact Emily at symposium@iaswg.org or (631) 623-0226.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CONTACT HOURS
