

Social Work with Groups

EDITOR

Diana Coholic, PhD, RSW

Professor, Social Work

Laurentian University, Ontario, Canada

dcoholic@laurentian.ca

Scan to visit the Journal homepage:

bit.ly/WSWG-20

Social Work with Groups is a one-of-a-kind resource for social work educators, students, field instructors, supervisors, practitioners, and allied professionals who are actively engaged in community and clinical practice.

The Journal publishes:

- examples of evidence-guided group work with diverse populations in multiple settings;
- a combination of vivid practice illustrations and sound theoretical concepts;
- innovative approaches for classroom and field instruction;
- basic group competencies for all social work professionals;
- and much more!